

From the Use of this Tonic.
Wilmington, N. C., March 7, 1892.
I hereby certify that my son became epileptic from the use of cigarettes, etc., and would have falling fits as often as 4 times a day. After using all medicines given by doctors in this city without any benefit I commenced the use of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic and after only a few doses the fits left him and he improved otherwise in health.

There are many here who can testify to my son's condition and I am willing to prove to all who wish to know what Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic has done for my son, and I cannot say too much in praise of it.

Edward Murrin.
Dayton, O., September 8, '91.
I have tried Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic on a great number of sufferers, and found that in each instance it afforded relief.

Saginaw Mich., at Work.

Mayor Wm. B. Bannon, of Saginaw, Mich., has appointed the following Tennessee Centennial Commissioners: Wm. B. Mershom, Edward Germain, John S. Estabrook, David Crowley and L. C. Slade. The Mayor states in his letter that Messrs Mershom and Germain have had large experience in this line of work having acted in a similar capacity at the time of the Columbian Exposition at Chicago.

Second Edition.

Dr. Richard-Gott has purchased an 8½ derby.

A. W. Lewis says that Wm. J. Bryan is a providential child, and is certain to be victorious in Nov.

Little Bennie Bridgeman went a hunting last week and reports good luck, he killed 32 squirrels out of one tree.

Cal Hill and E. B. Anderson were in from the mountain the first of the week with a nice load of peaches. Come again boys, you are always welcome.

A. K. Pryor is making up a car-load of people in the Valley to visit Maj. McKinley's home. We want to go, let us know, Kelley, when the car starts.

J. B. Womack says he wishes there were only three days in the week, and the first would be pay-day, second Sunday and third would be show day. How about this Bruce?

For the past week W. B. Cates, of this place has got up about 4 o'clock in the morning and run 5 miles before breakfast with his hat off. What in the world is the matter with you, Will? Does any one know?

D. T. Layne wants a joint debate with the best posted gold standard advocate in the country. He says he would like to meet J. H. and M. L. Harris to start with. How about this, gentlemen? When and where do you want to meet him?

E. E. Brophy has extended his bone and iron line as far south as Dr. J. L. Thompson's. The people here want him to stop at that end of the line, and come back and start at Mage Austins and extend the line north as far as the McWebb Hall. How about this Brophy?

It is reported this morning that J. Pardon will address the people of Victoria, Saturday night, Sept. 19, under the auspices of the McKinley & Hobo Club. Voters of all political parties are invited to be present as the paramount question of the day will be fully discussed by Mr. Pardon. The speaking will take place at the McWebb Hall.

The writer is very sorry indeed, to learn of what occurred at Sardis last Sunday. The people as usual gathered in before time for Sunday school and it appears that a dispute arose between some of those present what it was about the writer is not aware. Anyway, about that time Master Howell Kilgore entered the door and marched down the aisle and took a seat in the 'Amen corner.' After being seated for a few moments, he arose and ordered the house vacated and of course his orders were obeyed. After driving them out he promptly locked the doors and took the key home with him which of course put off the Sunday school. When interviewed in regard to the affair he replied that Christ drove the money changers out of the Temple and he had a perfect right to drive that boisterous crowd out of the church. The latest in regard to the above is that some of those who were present say that they will see him Court week about the matter.

Convicts Captured.

The two convicts who escaped from the prison at Inman last week were captured Friday in the head of Little Sequachee Cove. They appeared at one of the Bryants for clothing and the boys promptly seized them. One broke loose, however, and fled off into the mountains, but returned that night and gave himself up saying that he could do no good by himself. They were taken back to Inman Saturday. Both were colored.

Mr. Mark Martin and family and Miss Pearl Gabel, of Squachee, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Martin Sunday.

Mr. J. H. Harris, of Whitwell, was in our midst Sunday. He said that he had the promise of a cabinet position if Maj. McKinley is elected. Houston would make a good Secretary of War.

The Bryan and Sewall Club met last Wednesday night and selected Mr. J. B. Womack to represent it at the second quadrennial convention of the National Association of Clubs to meet at St. Louis, Oct. 3 1896.

The Devil owed Victoria a grudge and paid it in politicians. One of these unique politicians delivered an address in the Mack Webb Hall Saturday night. In the lightning of convincing arguments and brilliant flashes of Ciceronian eloquence he said: "On the very next day after Mr. McKinley takes his seat in the presidential chair, that great son of Ohio will issue a proclamation requesting Capt. Frater to have the coke ovens put in operation at this place, and have the hands paid in gold, if he has to pay them himself." (Great applause) Then this orator concluded by saying: "I believe McKinley will beat Bob Taylor by a Majority of 40,000 votes. (Prolonged applause)"

Peacock Farming

Raising peacocks and pheasants is a new business in this country. To supply their wants a number of millionaires are importing birds and eggs from England.

George Vanderbilt is among the number; he has already a lot of peacocks of the breed curiously called "Japanned." Perhaps because their feathers have a metallic, lacquer-like glittering, they are often wrongly spoken of as the Japanese or Japan peacock. Theodore Havemeyer has has recently imported a lot of pheasant eggs of the choicest breed. He sent them to his model farm, Maywak, N. J., and then invited a company of bantam hens to hatch out the young birds. Peacocks, although not a common sight in this country, are occasionally seen; pheasants are even more rare—but as already said, a demand has risen for them and a lucrative business should be carried on in dealing with both the eggs and the birds.

In Suffolk, England, there is a pheasant mews upon one estate where more than 100,000 eggs are sold annually. To visit Warwick castle is to see peacocks in all their glory; indeed, the place is famous for these birds, of which the handsomest are white.

Having become possessed of a pair of peafowls, they require very little management, but must be carefully fed. If kept in confinement, they pick up a pretty substantial living for themselves: it must be seen to that they have plenty of water and grain and occasionally fresh vegetables. In summer they avail themselves of the sheltering trees, and in some secluded nook the nest is made. The hen should be left to her own meditations and not interfered with while she is on the nest hatching the eggs.

A peafowl allowed to make her own nest in a hedge always brings out a stronger and better brood than one that has a nest in a house. When hatching, the young brood should not be removed until the next day, feeding not being required. The first food should be egg and milk, equal parts, beaten together and heated until it gets into a soft mass. This is given with a little millet or wheat. When one adds sufficiently to one's stock to sell eggs, as well as birds, one's bank account should assume healthy proportions.

Bringing up pheasants by hand is an extensive industry in England, and there is no reason it should not thrive here. The eggs are collected from birds kept in a mew and are placed under domestic hens. Care on the part of the keeper must be exercised after the brood is old enough to wander about, lest, falling victims to heredity, they wander off and take to a wild life. Indeed, they can only be kept from wandering in every direction by being plentifully supplied with food, which must be scattered in the places where it is desired they should stay.—Boston Globe.

That Wonderful Churn.

I want to add my testimony to the list of those that have used the Lightning churn. It does all that is claimed for it, you can easily churn in one minute and get a larger percentage of butter than with the common churns. I never took the agency for anything before but so many of my neighbors wanted churns that I ordered 30 and they are all gone. I think in a year every farmer will have a Lightning Churn. In fact they can't afford to be without one as they make so much more butter, and a good bit of money can be made in every township selling these churns. By writing to J. F. Casey & Co., St. Louis, Mo., you can get circulars and full information about the churn. A READER.

A Chance to Make Money.

I have made $1,640 clear money in 87 days and attended to my household duties besides, and I think this is doing splendid for a woman inexperienced in business. Anyone can sell what everyone wants to buy, and every family wants a Dish Washer. I don't canvass at all; people come or send for the washer, and every washer that goes out sells two or three more, as they do the work to perfection. You can wash and dry the dishes in two minutes. I am going to devote my whole time to this business now and I am sure I can clear $5,000 a year. My sister and brother have started in the business and are doing splendid. You can get complete instructions and hundreds of testimonials by addressing the Iron City Dish Washer Co., Station A; Pittsburg, Pa., and if you don't make lots of money it's your own fault.
